OUTREKPAD DAY TRIP REPORT

...A 4X4 CAPE PRODUCTION.....

On 12 APRIL 2025, 4X4 Cape Members came together to enjoy the iconic Outrekpad 4x4 route. Situated on the West Coast, the ever changing Outrekpad 4x4 route offers up an experience that keeps surprising due to the active re-arrangement of the worked area.

With overcast skies and a meager threat of rain, 5 member families met at the entrance, ready to take on the day. Pre-trip briefings done, designated lead, tail gunner and safety officer elected, tires deflated, the convoy worked through the route in discovery fashion. Some familiar paths and others anew, the route through the farmland offered some interesting challenges. With some new technology in hand for testing purposes, the only requirement was for one of the vehicles to find itself bogged down in a sand bank, ready for a recovery. Alas not to be the case on the day and what remains is to but test the equipment on another day (Atlantis Dunes...maybe).

After a fair time meandering through the route, it was time to start the fire. Thanks Kevin and Mike for doing the necessary. Three of the vehicles headed off to play a bit more, finding a few more interesting and technical sand paths to work through. Feeling accomplished, we joined the rest of the members at the Lapa to a crackling fire, some refreshments and good chatter.

After a hearty lunch, the days event came to a close. Some mud on the wheel arches, a few scratches on the paintwork, some sand on the carpets, it's but only a testimony to what a great day we had out there. Thanks Outrekpad, you never disappoint!!
